Everlasting God is a powerful witness to the majesty and power of the Creator God. Inspired by Ken Bible's adaptation of Psalm 139, Tom Fettke has created a timeless worship masterpiece. Multiple voicings are available. Suggested corresponding scripture readings include Isaiah 63:16, Psalms 73 and 139, and Romans 8:12-25.

Ken Bible is a highly respected author, poet, teacher, composer and publisher who resides in Kansas City, Missouri. His numerous publications include over 100 published songs, a dozen books in print, and original hymns in 9 major hymnals. He has worked for a major denominational music publisher for over 25 years and remains very active in his local church.

Tom Fettke is a well-known composer, arranger and producer of music and recordings for church and school. Widely published, his music has been performed by thousands of choirs throughout the world. In considerable demand as a guest conductor, clinician and workshop leader, he also has served as Senior Editor for several distinguished hymnals. A church choir director and minister of music in churches large and small for over 30 years. Tom lives in Nashville, Tennessee.
